

Haapala, Thompson & Abern, LLP

Aaron F. MacLeitch, Partner

Aaron F. MacLeitch is a partner and was admitted to practice in 1995. Mr. MacLeitch is an experienced litigator in defending personal injury, premises liability and landlord-tenant actions in which a defense may be offered under an automobile, homeowners, landlord package, personal umbrella or commercial policy.

A large percentage of Mr. MacLeitch's practice involves cases in which a reservation of rights has been issued by the insurer, and the insured is represented by either non-insurance retained or Cumis counsel. As such, Mr. MacLeitch is well-versed in navigating the tripartite relationship and the potential conflicts associated with handling such cases. Mr. MacLeitch also has expertise in handling state court appeals on behalf of the firm's clients and has assisted insurers in resolving complex matters with unrepresented claimants, including preparations of minor's compromises.

Mr. MacLeitch's insurance defense practice includes auto cases (liability and first party uninsured/underinsured claims), product liability, wrongful death, landlord tenant and toxic tort claims.
